

When asked if we would write a letter of recommendation on behalf of TJ and his company, Sunshine State Engineering, it was with a resounding “yes” that we would be more than happy to write him a recommendation. We have worked with TJ on a number of construction projects from small residential structural projects to large commercial projects and development for the past several years. He has consulted for us through all of the various phases of our projects. We are a Plan-Build general contracting firm in Brevard and we recognize the need for a reliable professional engineer that is knowledgeable of the codes and the requirements of the various government agencies but also can engineer plans and structures that actually can be constructed sensibly. He is very easy to work with and listens to the needs of our clients and helps come up with solutions. We have been fortunate to work with TJ on our projects and we look forward to continuing to work with him on our future development, commercial, and residential projects. We would be happy to speak with anyone about our experience with TJ and Sunshine State Engineering, please call us.
